Teachers requesting the scholarships must enroll either in the Geography Masters Program, or enroll, or be enrolled in the College of Education's Social Studies Masters Program in which the major focus is on graduate geography courses and teaching geography within the program of Social Studies. Other graduate courses are expected, but the major program hours must be in geography.
- The teacher is considered as a part-time faculty member in the Department of Geography/Geology. The requirements to be a part of the Dual Enrollment Program are the same as when the Department hires on-campus individuals to teach beginning geography courses here at UNO or at Offutt Air Force Base's Education Program.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

- Dual Enrollment funds will be used to pay for the tuition and fees incurred when a provisionally approved history teacher enrolls in a graduate history class, or Historical Research (HIST 2980). The program will pay for up to twelve additional hours of content education for the provisionally approved teacher.
- Dual Enrollment funds may be used to reimburse the school district in which the Dual Enrollment classes are taught for the purchase of previously approved classroom equipment that will benefit the instruction environment for both the teacher and students.
- Dual Enrollment funds will be used to remit the tuition for twelve hours of graduate coursework undertaken by any teacher enrolled in UNO's graduate History program. The teacher must be employed in district or school with which History Dual Enrollment works. The teacher must apply and be accepted into the UNO Graduate History Program using normal enrollment procedures. The teacher must make regular progress in her/his degree program and complete the degree within seven years.
- Dual Enrollment funds will be used to pay a blanket registration fee of $2500 to the Missouri Valley History Conference (MVHC) to be held in March 2007. Payment of the fee will admit any educator (history or other subject) to the MVHC who teaches in a school district in which the UNO History Department offers credit for Dual Enrollment classes.
- To encourage Dual Enrollment teachers to attend the MVHC, Dual Enrollment funds will be used to reimburse the school district for the half-day salary paid to the substitute teacher hired so that the teacher can attend the conference for one-half day.
- Dual Enrollment funds will be used to reimburse the school district for the full day (or two half days) salary paid to the substitute teacher so that an accepted or provisionally accepted Dual Enrollment teacher can undertake a full day of history enrichment experience.
